

Dr. Jason Van Heukelum
Superintendent
Winchester Public Schools

Dr. Van Heukelum has spent 19 years in education, including 3 years as the director of an international school in La Paz, Bolivia. His experience includes serving as a math teacher, coach, high school assistant principal, middle school principal, and most recently as the Deputy Superintendent in Cabarrus County, North Carolina. He believes that great schools use a combination of high expectations and high community engagement to maximize student potential in a nurturing and caring environment.

Dr. Van Heukelum has also been involved with securing multiple grants and implementing high school career academies, such as Biotech and Health Sciences, Advanced Manufacturing and Robotics, Information Technology and Public Safety, and starting International Baccalaureate programs.

Dr. Van Heukelum resides in Winchester with his wife, Sara, and daughter, Maggie.
